

Figure 2S. Strains were grown in MM glucose with the specified amount of added Fe(II) (closed circles) or Mn(II) (open circles). Experiments were performed exactly as described for Fig. 5 except that each strain expressed an MntR protein that additionally carried the G100R amino acid substitution.

